

The People's Column

Although the accidents right in Bryan have been few, the railroad crossings in our city must be eliminated sooner or later. These crossings are the height of folly and should not be tolerated. It is a wonder that there have not been many more accidents. The fast trains go through Bryan from 25 to 60 miles an hour. In the larger cities these grade crossings are rapidly being eliminated, and similar action must be taken in the smaller cities.

Recent Action Of Legislature Is No Slap At Governor

(By Associated Press)
AUSTIN, June 15.—Failure of the recent special legislature session to enact highway and civil service laws, does not denote any particular opposition to administration plans, but rather a "wide diversity of judgment among the legislators making desired actions impossible," Rep. Leonard Tillotson of Sealy, thinks.

"The governor lost no friends and has gained many," he said. "With the multiplicity of highway bills, some proposing radical reorganization of the highway department and its policies, it was inevitable that nothing constructive could be done," Tillotson continued.

"I introduced a bill which offered a constructive plan for strengthening and broadening of the authority of the highway commission in the development of a better correlated system of highways, with better provision for financing construction, but when a canvass disclosed the impossibilities of getting it passed without changes that would have destroyed its purpose and efficiency, I preferred not to present it in a contest with measures that dealt mostly with either radical changes in organization or injudicious deviations from established policies.

"The failure of the bill to continue the three cent gasoline tax after Sept. 1, 1927, when it reverts to two cents, merely means that the state is deprived of four million dollars with which to build roads next year, while numbers of counties that have been promised aid from the state must wait, and important gaps in principal highways are left unprovided for.

"I regret the failure of civil service legislation. It might be that had a more commendable and efficient measure reached the Senate, the result would have been different. Legislation establishing a state service must possess something more than a name.

Theory of the house bill sponsored by Reps. Stevenson, Kemble and Williams and killed in the senate was that state civil service is an experiment in Texas and that a too strict system should not be put into effect at first. Amendments strengthening the law could have been passed at a later session, the proponents said.

Woman Aviator Rarin' To Fly Across Ocean

(By Associated Press)
HAMBURG, Germany, June 13.—"I am ready to fly to America at the drop of the hat, provided I have the right machine," Thea Rasche reiterated today as she tinkered at her Udet Flamingo stunt plane, getting ready for her flight to Berlin to greet Chamberlain and Levine at the American club dinner.

"Fear?" exclaimed Germany's only licensed woman air pilot when some one asked whether she wouldn't be afraid to try the perilous Atlantic crossing. "I don't know that word," she said. "How else could I do stunts such as I do? As far as my personal inclinations are concerned, I would fly at once."

Thea is a familiar figure at aviation meets in Germany, Austria and other countries, looping the loop and performing similar hair-raising stunts.

Terracing And Highways Talked At C. C. Meeting

Tuesday's meeting of the Bryan and Brazos County Chamber of Commerce was featured by talks on various subjects of interest by George A. Adams, John M. Lawrence, C. L. Beason, Eugene Edge, J. Webb Howell, and others. J. Bryan Miller acted as secretary in the absence of San E. Eberstadt, who is in Florida with the Allen Academy band.

Mr. Adams told of the coming visit of D. G. Foreman, who will meet with local business leaders and discuss ways and means of fire prevention.

Mr. Lawrence reported that it would require 10 more days to repair the bridge near Navasota. He suggested that two railroad crossings on the road below A. and M. College should be eliminated.

The progress made in terracing in Brazos county was discussed at length by County Agent C. L. Beason. He said that several thousand acres were terraced last year, and that there should be an organization among the farmers to promote this work.

Bryan as an educational center should be advertised in the daily and weekly papers of the State during July and August, stated Eugene Edge of the educational committee.

In reference to dairying and the poultry industry, J. Webb Howell said that from $2500 to $3000 was obtainable in Caldwell every week through the sale of cream. He added that C. J. Janick of Bryan had opened a cream station.

A resolution was presented congratulating the Allen Academy upon receiving the honor rating. This is the first time that a Texas school has been given the honor.

Medicine Keeps Up With Other Lines

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, June 15.—Development of industry and commerce has marched with the great advance in the knowledge of preventive and clinical medicine and physical and natural sciences, Dr. Frank Billings of Chicago said Tuesday at the 146th convocation at the University of Chicago. Certificates and degrees were received by 839.

The hazards to life and health of those who accomplished discoveries of the causes and means of transmission of the infectious plagues "were as great if not greater to these benefactors of mankind than the spectacular adventures of the brave men who have crossed the Atlantic ocean in a non-stop flight with the flying machine," he said.

Recent Discoveries Many
Their reward was enshrinement "in perpetuity in the available literature of science and in the hearts of all mankind who are their beneficiaries."

Dr. Billings, former president of the American Medical association and for 25 years dean of Rush Medical College, hailed the past five years as more productive in the development of the physical and natural sciences and in preventive and clinical medicine than the discoveries of all previous recorded time.

Looking into the future he saw hundreds of problems, epidemic influenza as probably outstanding in the infectious field, because of lack of knowledge, without which "we are unable to prevent its epidemic recurrence and toll of suffering and death."

Sees Great Future
But, gazing further he envisioned the possibility of discoveries leading to the solution of many ills.

In knowledge of the structure of the cell, its function of secretion, excretion, development and multiplication and its relationship to other cells he saw a possible solution of the problems related to the cause of cancer, arteriosclerosis, heart disease, of the inherited characteristics of races, and as affording knowledge of eugenics, insanity, feeble-mindedness and other obscure conditions.

Lindbergh has rightfully been named the "Columbus of the Clouds." He was the first.

At last the goal of $15 scholarship per capita has finally been reached. Now the next step is to set a new and higher goal.

"Business conditions throughout the Republic of Mexico are vastly improved over six months ago," states a business leader who has returned from across the border. This statement sounds like Calver Coolidge in discussing the United States.

Comamnder Byrd, who basking in the sunshine of aviation accomplishments long before anyone ever heard of Lindbergh, is now going to play second fiddle to the young hero by hopping off to Paris this week-end. Byrd now realizes that time is costly.

After a year's inactivity due to the ravages of the last administration, the State Highway Department is again going to award several million dollars worth of contracts for construction in the near future. We congratulate Grimes county, our neighbor, upon being awarded aid on a concrete highway in certain sections.

The United States government is reverting back to a policy advocated by William Jennings Bryan many years ago when it offers to make an everlasting peace agreement with France. There is no better way to assure peace than by the adoption of this method and doubtless the French people will accept the offer.

Miles Standish was brazen in battle but bashful in less dangerous surroundings, but Lindbergh feels as much at home with the President of the United States as he does in the cockpit of his airplane. Lindy showed no emotion or nervousness whatever when he was standing beside Coolidge before a throng estimated from 250,000 to 500,000 people.

Hereafter all aviators (and many who are not aviators) will want to fly to German soil. Clarence Chamberlin has received word that the management of the principal brewery of Pilsen has offered to name one of its brands of beer after him, subject to his approval, and to present him with a tankard of honor. German's plan of honoring celebrities differs from that of Americans—we name bars of chocolate and cigars after our famous personages.

A recluse died in New York City the other day. Although he allowed himself only 80 cents a day to spend, his estate is valued at $500,000. He was a graduate of Lehigh University in 1880 with a Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science degrees, and was a life member of the American Society of Metallurgical Engineers. This is another example of the fact that there are more people mentally deranged in society than in our eleemosynary institutions.

Passing up the hills in Vermont and the Rockies in Colorado, Calvin Coolidge, in search of higher altitude, left Washington last night for the Black Hills of South Dakota in search of rest and votes. Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge will spend two months in the West. If Texans had been a little more alert, the president and his party no doubt could have been induced to spend the summer in the high Davis mountains of West Texas. No doubt.

The State Tax Survey Commission hears figures submitted by former Governor O. B. Colquitt, which are characterized by The Associated Press "as startling." Among them is the assertion that only 37 millions out of 898 millions of bank deposits in Texas are rendered for taxation and that corporation stock value is reported to the state at 38 millions and to the Federal Government at 1 billion 999 millions. Such figures if correct should serve as a alarm clock to awaken the state to the need of a more equitable and just tax system.

Frank Briggs, editor of Farm and Ranch, recently visited in our sister republic across the Rio Grande, and here is one of the things he has to tell us:

"Out of 15,000,000 people only approximately 30,000 have had any claim to real estate ownership. Of these 30,000, some 5,000 owned or controlled practically all of the lands of the country."

Enough said. Therein lies the explanation for all these various revolutions, which have hampered Mexico. Home ownership is essential to good citizenship.

Flying fields are going to replace the First Monday's, famous in horse and mule trading days. The only place you can be assured of getting a good crowd these days is at an aviation field.

The Rev. Edward C. Russell of New York City told his congregation that the memory of the American people is short and that Lindbergh should reap all the rewards possible, including monetary ones, while he can. This preacher must be a modernist.

The International Rotary has had a convention meeting in Brussels of much significance. Almost every speech delivered there emphasized the fact that the principles upon which Rotary clubs are founded and function are the principles that will eventually bring about universal peace. In other words, it is mutual understanding that is needed to prevent wars. The Rotary organization showed good judgment in holding its convention on European soil, and recent events have made it even more propitious.

Representative Roy Holder of Lancaster says that the reason that Governor Moody's legislation "went on the rocks," in the past session of the Legislature was because the Governor confided only in Senator Wood and Representative Claude Teed of Granger. From what other members of the Legislature state, this charge must be well founded. The failure to take members of the Legislature into his confidence caused the breach between Pat Neff and the Legislature and prevented his administration from being a greater success. W. P. Hobby worked with his Legislature better than any other chief executive of recent years. A Governor who is unable to get along with his Legislature is greatly hampered.

THE EDITOR

Most any one can be an editor. All the editor has got to do is sit at a desk six days out of the week, four weeks out of the month and 12 months of the year, and "edit" such stuff as this:

"Mrs. Jones of Cactus Creek let a canopener slip last week and cut herself in the pantry."

"A mischievous lad of Piletown threw a stone and struck Mr. Pike in the dock last Tuesday."

"Joe Dock climbed on the roof of his house last week looking for a leak and fell striking himself on the back porch."

"While Horace Green was escorting Miss Violet Wise from the church social last Saturday night a savage dog attacked them and bit Mr. Green several times on the public square."

"Isaiah Trimmer of Runing of Runing Creek was playing with a cat Friday when it scratched him on the veranda."

"Mr. Ford, while harnessing a broncho last Saturday, was kicked just south of the corn crib."—Exchange.

IN THE LONG AGO

Taken from the files of the Galveston News June 11, 1877, fifty years ago: "Brazos bottom planters in vicinity of Millican, have organized a club to visit progressive farmers, discuss farm problems and enjoy dinner."

Mrs. D. S. Buchanan To Be Radio Director

Mrs. D. S. Buchanan of Bryan becomes today director of the summer musical programs of the A. and M. College radio station. Five noonday programs are presented each week, this schedule being maintained summer and winter.

That the Federal Radio Commission looks favorably upon the broadcasting of WTAW is indicated by the fact that a better wave length has been authorized effective June 15. The old length has been 270.1 meters, while the new one is 309.1 meters, the wave formerly held by KDKA of Pittsburgh. The license just received is for sixty days only, but officials at College are of the belief that the new wave length will be permanent. But one other station in Texas has been assigned this wave and that is a very small amateur station. As matters stand now no other station in the United States within interference range has a wave length near this one. It is hoped that WTAW will be enabled next fall and winter to cover the entire state at night with no difficulty.

Even Kings Must Bow To Turkeys

Julian King, colored, was tried in the district court in this city this morning with the theft of a turkey. King pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined by Judge Davis, $25 and costs, which made the price of the Sunday turkey dinner, quite a "bit" per pound. This was the first case tried by Judge Davis under the new law, which makes the theft of a turkey a felony, carrying with it a fine or imprisonment in the penitentiary.

NEW HOME FOR BRYAN

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Mitchell have let the contract for a modern college to be erected on their lot in the Brazos addition on College Boulevard. This lot was a wedding gift to Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell from Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Searcy. This cottage when completed will be an attraction to the civic beauty of the boulevard. Dirt was broken yesterday and work will be rushed until completion.

Prejudice Worst Sin In The World Says Dr. Fosdick

Desires of the flesh, said the Rev. Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick recently in sermon at the Park Avenue Baptist church, New York, left more obvious marks and yet the sin of prejudice was the worst in the world, whose "devastations are written in every war, in every outbreak of racial hatred, in a million oppressions and ostracisms."

"His record of heartbreaks surpasses all the other sins of men," said Dr. Fosdick. "Its results in bloodshed have made history an orgy of carnage and makes civilization today a brief interval between catastrophes."

"Many of us have no concern with the temptation to drunkenness and adultery, but we all have temptation to prejudice. People who say that they hate the Japanese or the Italians or the negroes or Roman Catholics or Jews may walk in respectable society but for all that they are lepers. They are breeding places for the world's most deadly moral pestilence."

"Our racial, religious and national prejudices represent a belated attitude. They are leftovers from the conditions of life which surround primitive man when every stranger was an enemy. Our traditions run back to a time when everything strange—strange language, clothes, manners, color—denoted a foe. Without reason, without investigation, men were prejudiced to start with against anything unlike themselves."

"That is the origin of prejudice, and when today you hear people who hate Jews, hate Catholics, hate Catholics, hate Protestants, hate other races, you are witnessing a return to the primitive mind. The one who talks that way may be dressed like a modern, may ride in an automobile and listen over the radio but his mind is properly dated 1000 B. C."

"Prejudice is one of the most starving things that a man can carry around with him in his soul. The scornful person who hates strange people and keeps strictly to his own set cherishes the illusion that he is shutting out the world from fellowship with his valuable self. What he is really doing is to shut himself out from fellowship with the valuable world. He is not, first of all, making the world poor; he is making himself poor. He is closing the door against those rich, varied stimulating contacts that come only to a man who calls nobody common or unclean."

The world knows nothing of its greatest men.—Sir Henry Taylor.

Bryan Is Hummin' In Summer Time

Although only a few days of the summer vacation have passed in Bryan, it seems that a program of happy events has already begun, and those who are contenting themselves at home this summer, while the more fortunate ones are "abroad," and "visiting relatives" in other cities are also having a good time. To begin with the daily baseball game, in which all the people are interested all the time is ever a source of interest and enthusiastic enjoyment. This week has chronicled all kinds of social affairs; sunrise breakfasts on the Brazos river, at the Country Club, at Sue Haswell Memorial Park, at the lake at Oak Grove on Carter's creek bridge and in many other inviting spots in the beautiful open air, in the early morning.

Hikes, something new for these summer days, are being enjoyed with a good picnic breakfast at the end of the "hike."

Swimming parties in the cool of the evening at Blue Hole on the Brazos, at the Country Club pool, on the Little River at the bridge. Of course there is always appetizing "eats" that accompany each outing affair, and which give an added zest to every occasion.

Now that watermelons are coming in season, there is no limit to the social gatherings that will be planned. Bryan is not a bad place to spend the summer after all.

Municipal Notes

A committee composed of Mayor Wilson Bradley and City Manager Miller, reported on drainage problem in Block 252. A survey had been made, estimates of cost prepared and meeting held with property owners. Another meeting will be held at an early date and final reports made. Estimated cost of draining the block was over $500 and is to be paid by property owners.

The City Commission has been considering for some time reducing sewer rentals. An ordinance was passed last Friday night reducing the rentals in residences from $1.00 to 50 cents per month. In making this move the Commission took into consideration the fact that there are still many residences in Bryan that should be connected to the sanitary sewers, thus decreasing health hazards and many unsanitary conditions due to dry closets being maintained, that have not been connected due to the $1.00 per month sewer rental. Reducing the sewer rental should be an added incentive to get the residences connected to the sanitary sewers. Reducing the rental will mean an annual saving of approximately $3,000 to the individual citizens of the city.

The Health Commissioner and the City Manager were instructed to prepare lists of property owners whose property is located on sanitary sewers who have not complied with the ordinances of the city by making connection to same. Districts will be created and all connections ordered made. Thus to improve the unsanitary conditions of the city due to dry closets. This work to be started at once. Written notice will be sent from the city office to all property owners in the districts as same are created.

An ordinance was also ordered prepared for the City making a nominal and fixed charge for tapping the sewer mains and extending the sewer connection to the property line.

Fire Marshall F. M. Smith Jr., left Monday night to attend the meetings of the Firemen's Convention which starts Tuesday morning in San Antonio. A number of the volunteer firemen also will be in San Antonio.

First reading was had on an electric power rate schedule for cotton gins.

Commission adjourned until Tuesday night at 8 o'clock. Present were Mayor Wilson Bradley, H. A. Berger, E. J. Jenkins, L. L. McInnis, Guy P. Bittle, City Secretary, and F. L. Henderson, City Attorney.

Wheat Crop Needs No Outside Labor

FORT WORTH, June 14.—As a result of a number of unusual conditions which have brought about abnormal employment situation, Texas will need no outside labor to assist in harvesting its wheat crop this year, C. W. Woodman, assistant director of the United States Farm Labor Bureau, said here.

In conjunction with other bureaus of the Department of Labor Woodman's office is sending out notice warning the transient laborers who usually pour into the State at this time of the year to remain away until they have received notices of changed conditions and can be assigned to points needing laborers.

The drought through the wheat belt, which reports indicate has reached alarming proportions, is the principal cause of the slight demand for harvest hands, according to Woodman, who cited a letter from A. F. Barkley, Spearman, which declared that "crops are very short" in Hansford, Hutchinson, Ochiltree counties, and that "what wheat will be harvested can be taken care of by local men and trucks."

BRYAN LIONS ELECT PREXY AT MEETING

PAST PRESIDENTS' EMBLEMS ORDERED FOR ARMSTRONG AND FULLER

Election of a president for 1927-28, effective July 1, was the chief business at today's meeting of the Bryan Lions Club.

Ty Cobb was chosen president unanimously. Bob Armstrong, who also was a nominee for the office, asked that his name be withdrawn and that Cobb be chosen unanimously. Upon motion of W. E. Neely, this action was taken. Mr. Armstrong acted as president of the local club when it was first organized in Bryan, and made a most excellent and untiring leader.

It was voted to confer the past president's emblem upon Bob Armstrong and Dr. F. D. Fuller, whose time will soon expire. Dr. Fuller is now in Miami with the Allen Academy band, and his splendid administration was highly eulogized by members.

Norman Dansby drew the attendance prize.

A brief but interesting classification talk was delivered by Maurice Schulman, who stated that the motion picture industry is the third largest in the world. He said the world demanded more wholesome amusement now than ever. Mr. Schulman is the owner of three local theatres.

J. Bryan Miller, city manager, who is vice president of the club, acted as president in the absence of Dr. Fuller. The singing was led by Jess Hensarling and M. M. Erskine.

The following were present: Maurice Schulman, E. R. Bryant, Ross M. Sherwood, Harry S. Edge, J. Coulter Smith, J. E. Hensarling, M. M. Erskine, J. Bryan Miller, Henry Locke, C. B. Halsell, J. H. Bolton, Norman Dansby, J. M. Ferguson, H. H. Young, W. E. Neely, R. V. Armstrong, J. E. Hanson, Thos. Gordon Watts, Bob Irvine, L. L. Stephens, R. C. Franks, Mrs. Roy Danforth, Ty Cobb.

Texas Has $18,000 To Spend For Pro Enforcement In '27

(By Associated Press).

AUSTIN, June 14.—Gratitude for allowance of liquor prescription permit fees for prohibition enforcement work, by the legislative conference committee on the $11,000,000 departmental appropriation bill is expressed here by Mrs. Claude De Van Watts, president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union.

The fees will amount to about $18,000 a year in the comptroller's department. Under provision of the bill as finally passed and ratified in conference by both Houses, the entire sum of fees will be used for investigations and testimony concerning liquor prescription permit violations in the state.

Although the senate allowed all the fees, the House, in its original bill limited to $5,000 a year the sum that might be used in enforcement work.

During an all day House argument, Rep. P. L. Anderson charged that the W. C. T. U. was trying to "organize a smelling bureau." Debate was on an amendment to the departmental appropriation bill, seeking to give all fees to an enforcement bureau. The House finally allowed $5,000 a year.

The Senate, which had allowed the entire fees, won the free conference fight.

Mrs. De Van Watts said "we feel that this appropriation means a great forward step has been taken for enforcement of the prohibition law."

"W. C. T. U. has constantly agitated the question of better provision for the investigation of whiskey permits issued for medicinal purposes. For the last seven years there has been a steady and rapid increase in the number of permits issued. In an investigation by the W. C. T. U. we have discovered that drug stores often canvassed the doctors to ask them to grant permits for medical liquor and send their patients to the physicians a commission of the sales."

Insurance Expert To Come To Bryan

D. G. Foreman, secretary of the Texas Insurance Association, will be in Bryan this month to confer with local insurance representatives and to meet with the fire prevention of the Chamber of Commerce with the view of taking steps that eventually will lead to the removal of the bad fire record rate, according to George A. Adams.

Mr. Adams returned Monday from Dallas, where the State association held one of its most successful meetings in history. Mr. Adams again was elected a regional vice president. He states that the insurance men of this section of the State are going to perfect an organization of their own, and that one of the meetings will be held in Bryan.

C. R. Gardner of Bryan also attended the meeting, and was the guest of an entertainment given in Mineral Wells.

(By Associated Press).

NEW YORK, June 14.—One young woman dropped dead, a score of persons were injured in traffic accidents, nearly 100 adults and children were overcome by heat, and at least 1000 others required restorative treatment of a minor but emergency nature in the great mass of humanity that jammed the streets when Col. More than 13,000 police and reserves were called on to stem the tide of the pressing mob and oftentimes were compelled to use force.

Bootleggers Are Saved By Bees

(By Associated Press).

DALLAS, June 14.—Prohibition law violators of Dallas may go in for bee keeping as a side line industry, not that they expect to profit by the sales of honey or beeswax, but as a matter of protection from dry raiders.

And thereby hangs a tale providing the old adage that prudence is the better part of valor even though it does contribute to the chagrin of two of Dallas' most fearless minions of the law.

Patrolmen P. O. Davis and C. D. Smith scented beer. They were in the midst of what they believed to be the most profitable search. A large barrel excited suspicion. Both peered in. A second later both patrolmen were seen running from the yard.

"Whew! What was it?" Smith gasped when he and his partner reached a place of safety.

"Bees," exclaimed Davis.

Emergency hospital doctors administered soothing ointment to the places on their anatomy where the angry bees had landed.

Nurse Advises WEAK, RUN-DOWN WOMEN

To Take Cardui

"I have known of Cardui for nearly twenty-five years," says Mrs. Selma Measner, 1072 Harrison Ave., Beaumont, Texas. "During that time, I have taken it several times and have frequently recommended it to others, for it is a splendid medicine and I am glad to give people the benefit of my experience."

"I have been a nurse for several years and have often come in contact with patients who were run-down and weak. Often I have told sufferers of Cardui, and the way I, myself, had been helped after taking it, and advised them to give it a trial."

"I first took Cardui because I was awfully run-down. I had no appetite, and was weak and listless. It was hard to keep going under such conditions, and I looked for something which would help me."

"I had read of Cardui and decided to try it. After taking it, I improved so much that I have taken it since whenever I needed a tonic."

JULIUS A. GERMANY, DALLAS, TO PUT BRYAN ON THE OIL MAP SOON

New Wells to be Spudded in Over Southwest-ern Part of Brazos County, Just as Soon as Machinery Arrives; Geologists Make Surveys Here

Oil activities in Brazos county were given a new impetus Saturday when Julius A. Germany, of Dallas, who has been in Bryan the past three days announced that he would drill three deep new test wells in the South-western part of the county, near Bryan. The three new locations have been made and active drilling will begin immediately, as soon as machinery and etc. can be set up.

SURVEY MADE

Geologists have been making a geological survey of the county southwest of Bryan for the past two months and it appears to have a structure or salt dome. From the log of the Vick well, drilled 2 1-2 miles southwest of Bryan some months ago it has been determined that it was off the structure. It is now contemplated to drill three wells on the structure in addition to the one already drilling, unless the first well proves a producer. The purpose is to find the oil if there is any in this structure and Mr. Germany expects to make a thorough test.

This is a most important announcement for Brazos county as there has been but little interest in the development of an oil field in Brazos county for the past few months, due it is said, to the unfavorable conditions of the crude oil. Mr. Germany came into Brazos county several months ago and drilled the Vick well to a depth of 2,200 feet. This second venture in search of oil in Brazos county will be watched with interest and the prospect of the realization of many, who believe Brazos county has oil will bring to the county many interested in its oil development.

Ex-Bryan Boy Gives Recital

The following from the Houston Chronicle will be read with interest in Bryan as Rhodes Dunlap formerly lived here. He is a nephew of Mrs. Lucy King and often visits here; playing an exacting program, young Rhodes Dunlap, 16-year-old pianist, who was presented in recital Thursday evening at the Warwick Hotel, showed himself to be possessed of a really fine talent which, under the tutelage of Severin Frank, is being thoroughly and artistically developed. His program showed remarkable improvement over his offering of last year.

Technical difficulties were easily surmounted by the lad but not only did his playing show nimble fingers, but soul and poetry in addition, and a real love for the work, which does not grudge the long hours spent in practice.

The high spots of the Beethoven Sonata, opus 28, with which the program was begun, and the Mozart Concerto in D minor, which closed the evening, Mr. Frank playing the orchestral part with his pupil. In addition to these a suite of dances by Scarlatti and the Vienna Carnival Scene by Schumann were very effective. He gave but two encores during the evening, the Spring Dance by Greig, following the Chopin Ballade in F major and the last, Witches Dance, by MacDowell, following the concerto.

Ladies' Service Club Has Picnic

The Ladies' Service Club of the College Station Methodist church gave a picnic on Thursday evening, for the members of the Service Club and their families along with the board of stewards and teachers and officers of the Sunday School with their families making in all a group of some forty or fifty. All met at seven o'clock out in the grove in front of A. D. Jackson's home where he had arranged lights and chairs and a big table for the cats. After supper the children played games and the older people sat around and talked and the stewards held their regular monthly business meeting. Time passed by all too quickly and before we knew it it was almost 11 o'clock and the ladies brought out ice cream and cake and lemonade. All went home hoping that it would not be long until the Service Club would do the same thing again.

'Chief' Martin Is Proud of Sombrero

"Chief" Martin, who keeps vigil over unruly citizens, is wearing a five-gallon tropical sombrero these days with a flashy green hat band. Today a banker chided him about his hat, and with a smile that was evidence of the pride with which he regarded his unique hat, he said:

"Do you know what a good-looking lady told me about this hat? She said I looked more handsome in it than in any hat I had worn. She said the people couldn't see anything except my chin," and then he chuckled.

Mosquito-Control Measures Are In Order Now, Says Dr. Anderson

This is the time of year when the case-rate of malaria begins to rise, unless mosquito control measures are used, according to Dr. J. C. Anderson, state health officer, who is conducting a campaign to secure the cooperation of individuals and communities in the control of this disease and who urges mosquito control programs in all towns in malaria districts.

"By mosquito control," Dr. Anderson stated, "is meant the elimination of mosquito breeding places. Medical science has made possible the prevention of malaria, as well as numerous other diseases, and the fact that mosquitoes, the carriers of this disease, are allowed to breed unmolested to become, a health menace to a community, is indeed regrettable. Malaria is not only a health problem but it also the cause of serious economic loss to any town or district.

Methods of Mosquito Control
"Methods recommended to householders for the prevention of mosquito breeding premises is as follows:

"As mosquitoes breed only where there is water, it is well to fill in low places, and to drain ditches and ponds where practical. "Where rain water is kept in barrels or other containers cover once a week with half a pint of kerosene. Where refrigerator drains under house, keep oiled also.

"Clean out clogged gutters, and do not allow water to stand in horse troughs, tin cans, or other containers. "Tanks, ponds and underground cisterns should be stocked with minnows, which can be obtained

Increasing Strength Of Special Interests Given By Barron As Greatest Evil In Government

"The greatest evil in Texas government today is the increasing strength of special interest representatives in the legislature," declared W. S. Barron in a talk on the Texas Legislature before the Rotary Club yesterday. "There are conceded to be a few members of the house on the payroll of big business organizations and the Senate doubtless has several also, as does the National Congress. These special interests are very careful to see that their businesses are protected in every possible way from adverse legislation.

Need Tax Provision
"Revision of the present tax laws is, in my judgment, the most pressing need in Texas. The 39th Legislature authorized a tax survey commission which measure was vetoed by the governor, but another tax survey has just been authorized and the commission is now at work. The solution to the tax question is not, in my opinion, to come thru increases in the ad valorem tax, but rather thru special taxes on luxuries such as tobacco, and also on gasoline. Three times a gas tax has been defeated by oil interests in spite of favorable public sentiment, yet the oil lobby was nothing compared to the tobacco lobby engineered against a tobacco tax. These special taxes would burden no one and at the same time afford a great deal of relief in the matter of taxation.

Aid Ministers
"We are proud to have submitted two constitutional amendments for presentation to the people giving aid to ministers. One of them provides that ministers' homes and all property connected therewith be exempt from taxation, and the other permits railroads to give the clergy free passes. "The average layman's opinion of the Legislature is contemptuous yet I believe that body to be a fair cross section of the citizenship of the State. At any rate the people themselves are responsible for that body, and condemnation of it amounts to condemnation of oneself.

Texas Is Large
"One must travel Texas to realize the enormity of its empire and the diversity of its interests. To legislate wisely for our great domain requires broad minded men. I believe the past Legislature has done a pretty good job. Certainly A. and M. College with its appropriations for about a half a million dollars worth of new buildings has a right to feel satisfied. No one person is responsible for this result—it took team work. The fact that A. and M. is the most popular institution in the State also helped greatly.

"Here in Bryan we should not take A. and M. College as a local institution for granted. We are the home of a truly great school of which we should be proud and appreciative."

D. L. Wilson in charge of the program introduced Rev. Charlie Taylor, the popular evangelist who held forth in Bryan this spring, in a talk featured by a tribute to Bryan. He stated that he had seen and heard the Allen Academy band at Fort Worth recently and that their clean and gentlemanly conduct as well as the excellence of their music had advertised both the school and Bryan as worthy places. Rev. Charlie declared that he had found Bryan people good folks and friendly folks—a citizenship worthy of the trust imposed upon an educational center. He urged Bryan to stand back of and appreciate both Allen Academy and A. and M. College.

Dr. D. B. Gregory of College and E. E. McCulloch, T. B. Bowden and A. S. Adams of Houston, were guests, as well as the visiting Rotarians: Charlie Taylor, New London, Conn., and E. V. Varnell of Cisco. Members present: W. S. Barron, C. L. Beason, Dr. Jno. W. Black, Wilson Bradley, J. Seely Caldwell, W. J. Coulter, W. F. Davis, R. M. Dansby, W. H. Darrow, M. E. Farmer, E. J. ## REV. AND MRS. DAUP RETURN

Rev. and Mrs. W. W. Daup who returned to Bryan Friday from Fort Wayne, Indiana, after an absence of several weeks on account of the illness of Rev. Daup, are deeply appreciative of the sincere and cordial welcome accorded them by the members of St. Andrews' Episcopal church and other Bryan friends. They wish to publicly thank the members of Saint Andrews' church, for the thoughtful kindnesses shown them in so beautifully preparing the rectory for their reception upon their arrival. Fresh flowers were vased in every room, from the front to the back, and the pantry and kitchen stored with delicious "eats," ready for the serving. Rev. and Mrs. Daup are happy to again be back in Bryan, and declare that "nowhere are friends, so thoughtful and true," and the ones who have so thoughtfully and kindly proved their friendships, during the times of sickness, and now upon their arrival back in Bryan.

Eberstadt, secretary of the Bryan and Brazos County Chamber of Commerce; Dr. F. D. Fuller, president of the local club, Director E. A. Lightfoot. There were 31 in the party. The cost of the tickets was $2275, the largest sum ever paid in Bryan for railroad tickets, and said to be one of the largest in the history of the I. & G. N. railroad.

The money was raised by Lions clubs over the State with the aid of local donations. This is the first time that a band has accompanied the Texas delegation to an international convention. The party expects to be gone eight or nine days. They went by way of Memphis.

Bryan Man Makes Good As Salesman

N. N. Snapp, the local representative for the Seaboard Life Insurance Company of Houston, has the satisfaction of knowing that he helped put the Seaboard into the "Hall of Insurance Fame" in their May campaign for $1,000,000 of written and examined business. The close of the campaign saw the goal passed by $81,000.

Life Insurance companies, according to Mr. Snapp frequently write better than $1,000,000 in one month, but the achievement of the Seaboard at the close of its second year's business is one that will no doubt stand in the insurance profession for years to come. Mr. Snapp says that this business was not saved up weeks ahead, as is some times the case, but that the campaign was announced by the company's officials just four days prior to its being launched.

Burke Baker president of the Seaboard company, is more than pleased with the work of Mr. Snapp, and congratulates Bryan that they have so trained a representative in the insurance profession.

Legislature Will Vote Measures In Fall Says Barron

The Legislature will pass the administration measures advocated so strongly by Governor Dan Moody when it is called in special session this fall, according to Hon. W. S. Barron, local representative, who has returned from Austin. Mr. Barron explained that the time of the legislators was absorbed during the first few weeks to consider other measures at that time.

He said that Governor Moody showed remarkable diplomacy when he jollied the Legislature on the last day, instead of panning them for not passing his bills. "I concede every man his right to disagree with me. I do not fall out with you for that," the Governor stated.

He said that Moody was determined to have a board of higher education created, which is being opposed by A. and M. College.

OLD TEXAS CATTLE TRAILS

Grass now grows on the Northern Cattle Trail of Texas, which was once the road to riches and romance. And where not overgrown by grass, the trail has been wiped out by the tiller of the soil. Here and there, you may still find a path four feet apart for a width of several miles. That is part of the old trail. But the long beaten paths, narrow and once well defined through the States of Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Colorado and Kansas, have about disappeared. Fiction writers, pictured it as a beaten highway without a blade of grass upon it and those who wrote in this way of the trail probably were looking out on the New York harbor as they wrote and the chances are they had never been west of Buffalo, New York.

For the Northern Cattle Trail never was a broad highway, as we find highways today. It consisted merely of cow paths parallel to each other. For a time it wound from Brownsville to Kansas, but its existence was somewhat brief. The Old San Antonio Road, which was a cattle trail no less than the Northern Trail, had a continuous existence of more than a hundred years, and even now parts of it are in use.

Trail Endured 28 Years
But the Northern Trail endured for only twenty-eight years. Before that time cattle were driven to New Orleans and to the army posts, and a few cattle trails as far as Sedalia, Mo. The Northern Trail did not really come into existence until the Kansas Pacific Railroad reached Abilene, Kansas, after which there was a continuous stream of cattle northward from Brownsville, Texas, and intermediate points. They were driven in herds of about 2,500 each. Beginning in 1867, 35,000 cattle were driven to Abilene. By 1875, the peak was reached and 750,000 cattle were driven up the trail. Gradually from that time on the number grew less and less until it closed in 1895 before the advance of the railroads and other factors which forced down the prices of Longhorn cattle.

Cattle drivers usually speak of it as the Northern Trail. Many call it the Chisholm Trail, however. If they refer to the trail pioneered by Jesse Chisholm up the Arkansas river, they are not far wide of the truth, because the Northern Trail crossed the Chisholm Trail at some point on the way northward, no matter how it changed. And the Northern Trail did change as the railroads moved westward. In the early years of the cattle drives the trail wound its way to Colbert's Ferry on Red River. Several years later the trail crossed Red River at Red River crossing. In the eighties Doan's Store was the main crossing, and then the trail followed the Kansas-Colorado line.

Origin of the Trails.
There was a good deal of confusion in the discussion of the trail. When cattle men met one would say he followed the Chisholm Trail northward from San Antonio. Another would say he followed the Chisholm Trail through the western part of the State. With the organization of the Old Time Trail Drivers Association, one of the first tasks was to determine just where these trails lay and their proper names. It was then ascertained that Jesse Chisholm had pioneered the trail along the Arkansas river, while John Chisholm had blazed a trail to the head of the Concho river in West Texas. Another trail ran north along the Pecos river into the Colorado country. It had been pioneered by Charles Goodnight, of Goodnight, Texas, in the late sixties, and was known as the Goodnight and Loving Trail.

These trails of the West served only a small portion of the herds that were driven North into Kansas and the Northwest. Most of the herds followed the Northern Trail. "The Trail Drivers of Texas" the most complete history of the cattle trails, contains many discussions of the location of the Northern Trail. In volume 11, George W. Saunders, organizer of the Old Time Trail Drivers of Texas, who collected the material for both volumes, gives the log of the cattle trails from Texas to Kansas and the Northwestern

States. "Starting at the Rio Grande river," Mr. Saunders writes, "the trail passed through Cameron, Willacy, Hidalgo, Brooks, Kenedy, Kleberg, Nueces, Jim Wells, San Patricio, Live Oak, Bee, Goliad, Karnes, Wilson, Gonzales, Guadalupe, Caldwell, Falls, Bosque, Williamson, Hill, Johnson, Tarrant, Denton, Wise, Cook and Montague counties to Red River station, or crossing where the Texas Trail intersected the Chisholm Trail."

Trail Moves Farther West.
In the late seventies it became necessary to move the trail farther west, as the old trail was taken up by farmers.

"The trail was changed so as to go through Wilson, Bexar, Kendall, Kerr, Kimble, Menard, Concho, McCulloch, Coleman, Callahan, Doan's Store (or the crossing on the Red River). Later on, the Southern herds quit the old trail in San Patricio county and went through Live Oak, McMullen, La Salle, Dimmit, Zavala, Uvalde, Edwards and intersected the Western Trail in Kimble county, from where all followed the well-defined and much traveled trail to Doan's Crossing."

"As I remember the trail to Dodge City from Doan's Crossing, it passed up North Fork Red River, Croton creek, crossed North Fork Red river at Wichita mountains, up North Fork to Indian Camp. "From Indian creek to Elm creek, Cash creek, Washita, Canadian, San creek, Wolf creek, Old creek, Beaver creek, Wild Horse and Cimarron, where Red Clark conducted a road house called 'Long Horn Roundup,' on up Bear creek, Bluff creek, Mailey's road house, Mulberry creek and Dodge City."

Mr. Saunders explained that several of the Texas counties were not organized at that time and none organized in the Indian Territory.

Texas Cattle Poor and Land Poor
Texas was cattle poor and land poor when the drives started. The Carpet Baggers had issued land certificates which came to be worth next to nothing. In some parts of the State, land was not worth more than twenty cents an acre. Probably the average value throughout the State was about one dollar an acre.

Except in East Texas there were no cattle ranches. Longhorn cattle had multiplied until there were more than four million of them, in 1867. While there was this great surplus of meat on the hoof in Texas, the Eastern States were cattle poor.

But this condition had existed to some extent for two centuries and as far back as 1718 a French trader was making his way into Texas to obtain cattle and horses for the French posts in Louisiana. The cattle and horses of Texas were of Spanish origin. Their ancestors had been brought to Mexico by Cortez, and those who came after him in the sixteenth century. These animals were taken to frontier posts along the Rio Grande river and into Texas. Many escaped into the wild, and finding water, multiplied in a wild state. In some districts the mustangs were more plentiful than the cattle, and Stephen F. Austin's colony subsisted on them to a large extent for two years.

Before a market was found in Kansas, men had tried New Orleans and army posts in the Indian Territory. But it was not until the packers of Chicago, Kansas City and Omaha introduced dressed beef and refrigeration that cattle began to be loaded by the thousands in Abilene and other cow towns of Kansas. Until the seventies there was only pork packing and meat was preserved by drying and pickling. Dressed meat and refrigeration made it possible to convey the Texas steer in edible form to New England, where there was the greatest scarcity of cattle.

Romance there was and adventure on the Northern Trail. Men like George Saunders and Colonel Ike Pryor were lured to the trail by tales of buffalo hunts, stampedes and Indian encounters. Even women were attracted to the life of the trail. Samuel Dunn Houston, of San Antonio, picked up a boy at a livery stable in Clayton, New Mexico, and hired him. He called himself Willie Matthews. Willie was good-natured, and when there was a storm at night he would get up and stay with the cattle until it was over. "The Kid," as Houston called him, stayed with the herd for three months. But at Hugo, Colorado, "the kid" said he wanted to quit because he was homesick.

"The Kid" Turns Out To Be a Woman

Later that day a well-dressed girl came out to the camp and it turned out that she was "the kid". Then she told Houston that her father was an old-time trail driver from Southern Texas who had settled in Caldwell, Kansas. Her father had talked so much about the trail that she had made up her mind she was going over it, too. So, dressed up like a man, she had told her family that she was going to spend a few days in the country, and then she set out to find a driver who would hire her.

"She was a perfect lady," Mr. Houston said afterward. But the romance of the trail was only a by-product, unless the economic development of Texas be considered a romance. There is no question but that it was a romance as astonishing as the gold rush of forty-nine.

Cattle increased in value from $3 per head, the "hide and tallow value", to $25 per head. There was a decline after 1886, due to over-exploitation of the cattle industry, but it never went as low as the hide and tallow value again. Before the trail finally closed in 1895, the Longhorn cattle brought, according to one estimate, based on the prices obtained in Kansas, as high as 200 million dollars. About ten million of them had been driven over the Northern Trail in twenty-eight years. A million horses also had been ridden or driven over the trail, and they brought as good prices as the cattle.

But, enormous though, as was this wealth, it represents only a small part of the contribution of Mr. Longhorn and his side partner, the mustang. Land became valuable for stock raising and increased from $1 to $10 an acre as a result of the drive.

There are other heroes in the history of the State, but it would be hard to find one who has done as much for the happiness and development of the State as the Texas steer.

Longhorn Now a Curiosity.
What was his reward? He is missing from the range. Bred cattle like the Shorthorn, the Hereford, have taken his place. Soon, what is said to be the last of the species on the range, although one or two of his mates may be scattered about, will be driven by cowboys from Bandera, Texas, to the zoo in Brackenridge Park, San Antonio. The great Edwards Plateau, between Austin and the Rio Grande river, probably the most expansive grazing strip of ground in the country, now is dotted with Merino sheep, Angora goats as well as bred cattle, but old "Doggy," old "Sea Lion," old "Hatrack," as he was called in various communities, has become a curiosity for a zoo.

His great horse proved a problem, since one Longhorn in a cattle car could wreck havoc if aroused; and not many could be hauled in a car. But, in addition to the difficulty of transportation, a Hereford could be raised cheaper, in terms of quality meat, than the Longhorn. So the king of the old ranges has passed. Even Brahma cattle, from India, which are immune to the dangerous tick, may be found in considerable numbers. There are eleven herds of them and some breeders say they are more suited for Texas than any other State.

No monument has been erected to the Longhorn, although the Buckhorn saloon at San Antonio, which has the largest collection of horns in the world, contains many specimens of their heads and horns. But Longhorns are represented in the monument which will be erected in Brackenridge Park, San Antonio, in memory of the Old Trail Drivers and the great cow epoch. The model of the monument which has been completed by Gutson Borglum shows several Longhorns on the trail. One old Longhorn steer has raised its head and the boss of the herd knows that this means the beast has scented water and that he may plunge forward, starting a stampede. So the boss has ridden forward to give instructions to the guide. The stampede may not be prevented, but if it does take place there may be no loss of life, if the drivers act promptly. San Antonio has pledged $50,000 for the monument, the cost of which will be $100,000, since it will be of bronze and will take two years to complete. It is expected that the other $50,000 will be easily raised throughout the remainder of the State.

Allen Academy Band Arrives In Bryan Last Night

(From Monday's Daily)

The Allen Academy band-Chamber of Commerce goodwill tour ended in Bryan about 1 o'clock this morning when the delegation ambled into the city after completing one of the most successful tours of its kind ever undertaken in Texas. The delegation was headed by Director E. A. Lightfoot and his 41 talented young musicians, Secretary Sam E. Eberstadt, Coach Puny Wilson, and William O. Alexander, Allen student.

On this trip 1600 miles were covered and approximately 70 cities were visited. The band was given unprecedented receptions, and every kindness was extended. In each city Secretary Eberstadt made a rousing speech in which he praised the accomplishments of Bryan and Brazos county and William Alexander told of the educational advantages offered by Allen Academy. Major Lightfoot and his band simply captivated their audiences everywhere.

Mr. Eberstadt stated that in publicity the Allen band and the local Chamber of Commerce received almost as much notice as Lindbergh and Chamberlain combined.

The Chamber of Commerce planned to give a banquet today for the goodwill tourists but the boys were found to be too tired for such a festivity. A similar entertainment will be given them when they return to school in the fall as a token of Bryan's appreciation to Director Lightfoot and his band, according to Mrs. Lee J. Rountree, head of the entertainment committee.

Rev. and Mrs. Day Given 'Pounding'

There can be "poundings" and "poundings." The flexibility and varied meaning of many words in the English language, gives room for various ideas, when you speak the word. It is wrong to "pound" the pastor of your church and his family, when the word means "knock," but it is the very splendid thing to do, to "pound" him and his folk, when the word means "love and appreciate," as it did on Thursday evening at the home of Rev. and Mrs. R. E. Day on west 26th street. Without the knowledge of the pastor, the members of the First Baptist church assembled at the church place at 8 o'clock, each one bringing along a "pound" of something nice. They proceeded in a body to the home of Rev. and Mrs. Day, and fairly "stormed" them as they all went in, unannounced, and after greetings piled high the dining room table with their gifts. There were all the good things to be thought of, from ham and eggs to cake and pie, and the occasion was one of sweetest fellowship and association. Rev. Day, full of the spirit of pleasure always and one who enjoys a joke and fun to the fullest, never lacking a word when it is needed, was, this time, almost "speechless," as he tried to tell of his appreciation, and the appreciation of the family for his expression of love from his members. It was an evening of great pleasure to the intruders who came in great numbers and fairly took possession of the pastor's home, and also to the pastor and his family, who appreciated the gifts and also the spirit of the givers, that made the occasion one long to be remembered.

An impromptu program of vocal and instrumental music by the crowd of young people present, and several good talks by the older folk, and a humorous reading by Rev. Day, closed this happy and delightful evening.

Mrs. Mary Carr Presides At The Cemetery Meeting

In the absence of the president, George A. Adams, who is out of the city, Mrs. Mary P. Carr, vice president of the Bryan Cemetery Board presided at the regular session this morning at 10 o'clock at the City National Bank. Mrs. Carr, Mrs. John K. Parker, Mrs. Albert Buchanan, Mrs. Dona Carnes, Mrs. G. M. Brandon, and Fred L. Cavitt.

Bryan Citizens In Auto Wreck
Ernest Langford and M. J. Tremont of Bryan miraculously escaped death when their car turned over twice yesterday afternoon between Millican and Wellborn. The men escaped with only bruises. They met another car in the road and apparently the driver lost control of his machine. The Bryan car swerved to miss hitting the other automobile, with the result that they went in the ditch. The boys were in the back seat of the Bryan car and escaped unscathed.

With the report of names of those who have paid dues with the Cemetery Association for annual care of their lots for the year 1927 it was found that 99 lots are thus being cared for at this time. For the benefit of those who may be interested in listing their lots for annual care with the association, the price for same is given as $8 for one lot; $4 for one-half lot and $2.50 for quarter lot for one year.

Motion was made and carried, that the Board of Directors meet, as has been their custom, only once each month during the summer. This meeting to be held on the 2nd Tuesday of each month. The next regular meeting of the board will be, Thursday, July 14, at 10 a. m.

No further business, the meeting was adjourned. The following directors were present: Mrs. Mary P. Carr, Mrs. John K. Parker, Mrs. Albert Buchanan, Mrs. Dona Carnes, Mrs. G. M. Brandon, and Fred L. Cavitt.
